STUDENTS' SOCIETY MEETS TO DISCUSS ATOMIC ENERGY

MOCK PARLIAMENT WILL HOLD SERIES OF FOUR SESSIONS

Each Party Takes Over Government For One Period

That four sessions of the Mock Parliament will be held this year at McGill was learned last night from Doris Berrier, Treasurer of the McGill Debating Society and member of the executive committee. Each of the four political parties will hold the reins of the government for one session and will be represented by members of the equivalent political club on the campus. Professor Tuck has been chosen as 'Speaker-Select.'

TENTATIVE DATE SET

Tentative date for the first session has been set for Dec. 13 after a conference of executive committee to allocate all proceedings and final plans. Representatives of the four clubs on the executive committee are John Chipman of the Liberal Club, Bill Ornstien of the L.P.P. Club, Peter Vivian of the P.C. Club and Leo Zakuta of the C.C.F. Club with Boris Berrier representing the Debating Union at the present time.

The Mock Parliament's primary function would be to afford students to hold logical and sensible discussions on the pertinent problems of the day, and also give the campus a glimpse of parliamentary life.

At the meeting, the Committee announced that Professor Tuck is Speaker-Select. Also that the Opening Session of Parliament would take place some time in the middle of December.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

The following resolutions were passed by the Committee at the first meeting held on Wednesday, November 14.

1. That the Executive Committee of the Mock Parliament will be composed of two representatives of each recognized political group on the campus; one of these representatives will be from the Executive of the above mentioned group. The authorized representative of the Debating Union will act as Chairman.

2. The Mock Parliament will conduct its sessions according to the rules of Canadian Parliamentary procedure; subject to the interpretation and discretion of the Speaker.

3. The topic will be chosen by the Executive Committee, subject to the approval of the Government representatives and will be published in the Daily in at least one week in advance of the regular session.

Presentation of the topic will be done by the Government in any manner it sees fit.

Each opposition party is permitted to move one amendment, or sub-amendment to the main resolution.

FOUR SESSIONS THIS YEAR.

For the first four sessions of the Mock Parliament for this academic year, each political party will be given the reins of the government. The following order has been approved.

1. Liberal party-government C.C.F. opposition.
2. Progressive Conservative Government.
3. L.P.P. Government.
4. C.C.F. Government.

PLANS TEMPORARY.

In a statement to The Daily it was learned that the decisions of the Executive Committee are only effective for the present academic year and may be modified by the Continued on Page Four

RED AND WHITE REVIEW.

Auditions for all specialty acts for the Red and White Review will be held next Monday at 5 p.m., in the Union. Dramatics Director David MacCallan, Dance Director Ron Gillespie and Producer Charles Wassermann will be on hand to audition all those who are interested in staging solo numbers, such as jugglers, magicians or skits within the frame work of the review. Auditions for these acts will continue on Tuesday. Details will be announced in Monday's Daily.

Speakers-Select

PROF. F. R. TUCK who has accepted the post of Speaker-Select of the Mock Parliament's four sessions which will be held this academic year.

Professor Tuck is a graduate of the Universities of London, Cambridge and Harvard. He is a professor at Law and served for four years at the British Embassy at Washington.

He was Constitutional advisor in Public Health to Premier Garson of Manitoba. He was also the Speaker for the Mock Parliament at the University of Saskatchewan for three years.

U.B.C. Honors Grads At Fall Convocation

Vancouver, Nov. 16—(CUP)—Ten former students of the University of British Columbia were honoured at the Fall Convocation of the University. They received honorary LL.D. and D.Sc. degrees at the hands of the Chancellor of the University, the Hon. E. W. Hamber.

It is believed to be the first time in the annals of the U.B.C. that its own graduates have received such honours from their Alma Mater. Included in the ceremony was the formal installation of the Hon. E. W. Hamber as Chancellor. He succeeds the late Dr. R. T. McKelvie who held that post from 1918 until 1944, the year of his death.

Sing-Song Sunday Eve At Conservatorium

The second of a series of sing-songs, under the directorship of Dean Douglas Clarke, will take place this Sunday evening at the McGill Conservatorium of Music. Dean Clarke has stressed that no auditioning or voice training is involved and that singing will be in unison rather than in harmony. The program for the season will include popular as well as English folk songs.

An invitation to attend has been extended to those who, while preferring not to sing, might like to "sit in" and listen. Nobody will be forced to sing.

McGill Debators To Leave Today For Vermont U.

Free Trade Policy For United States Subject of Contest

The Intercollegiate Debate Competitions get under way today when a team from McGill journeys to the University of Vermont in Burlington.

The McGill debaters, Ted Huggesson and Conrad Shatner, will defend the affirmative side of the topic Resolved: that the foreign policy of the United States should be directed towards the establishment of free trade among the nations of the world. Eliminations were held two weeks ago and the two winners were chosen to represent McGill.

The team leaves Montreal this morning and travels to Burlington by train, where they will be met by representatives of the University of Vermont Debating Society. Accommodations have been provided for them for the evening.

In December, a team from Vermont will come to McGill in a return match. The official date and topic have not as yet been arranged. The Debating Union Executive is making plans for the debate however, and final word will be issued soon.

The next debate on the agenda, is a home-and-home debate between McGill and Toronto, to be run off on November 26. The Toronto end of the debate will be broadcast over the CBC. The topic of debate is Resolved that Canada should open her doors to immigration. The home teams will uphold the affirmative.

Kamera Kontest Calls for Entries

Cash Awards Offered; One of $15, Two of $5; All Students Eligible

Jack Momose, Annual Photography Editor, announced yesterday that entries for the Campus Life "Kamera Kontest" were trickling in very slowly. He said that up to yesterday no outstanding prints had been received and that there would have to be more entries if the Campus Life Section is to be a success.

The Annual is this year changing its policy in awarding prizes. In other years it offered as prizes free copies of "Old McGill" but this year it is offering cash awards. These are divided into one prize of $15 and two of $5 each.

All McGill students are eligible to submit proofs. These should be black and white and can be any size. They should deal with life on the Campus, from sports affairs to "R.V.C. raids." Action shots are desired and we do mean any kind of action. (Attention all R.V.C. Kamera fiends.)

Photos must be captioned but should not be mounted. Entries should be handed in to the Union Tuck Shop addressed to Jack Momose, Photography Editor, "Old McGill 1946," before Dec. 17, 1945.

EUS and UHC Sponsor Dance This Evening

Program Features Holmes' Band Freshette Chorus

This evening's dance under the sponsorship of the Engineering Undergraduate Society and the Union House Committee will feature Johnny Holmes' Orchestra with Oscar Peterson at the piano and Wally Aspell handling the vocals. As an added attraction, the newly organized McGill Freshette Chorus will make its debut during the intermission.

The executive of the E.U.S. points with pride to the various innovations which will be in evidence: the new coloured lighting scheme, the elevated bandstand, the gay engineering motif of the decorations as well as the presence of the Freshettes. Said one member of the executive: "The Plumpers are especially proud to be the first to stage this super attraction."

Dancing will commence at 9 p.m., after a few words of welcome and will continue until 10.30. The fore-stage will then be cleared to make way for the Chorus Line. After this intermission highlight, dancing will again be in order until 11.15 when Johnny Holmes will feature a brand new issue of his comedy skit and musical show. This highlight attraction will take about 15 minutes and will be followed by more dancing until 1.30 a.m. The Grill Room will be opened at midnight for refreshments.

As has been the custom, in this series of dances, ticket sales have been restricted to 300 to ensure dancing comfort. However, the Wurlitzer will be in the Reading Room for the benefit of those who prefer its quiet seclusion or require more room for their dancing specialties. Tickets may still be obtained at the Union Tuck Shop and from the various class presidents in the Engineering Building at a cost of $1.25 per couple.

(Letter to my Readers: Dear swell, loveable, generous, kind, intelligent, thoughtful readers, After my rather disappointing and decapitated showing of last week, I feel that I owe you an explanation. Contrary to popular opinion, I did not have an examination last Friday; in effect, I sweated out a whole complete column for you the previous night. The fact that only one half of the column was printed, well, believe me, beyond my jurisdiction. Far be it from me to blame any one in particular, but to be perfectly honest, I have my suspicions. It seems that certain members of the faculty spoke to Chas the other day, saying "Mr. Editor, we don't mind people reading "Short Circuits" during our lectures, but when they flagrantly turn to Page 4 under our noses... well, that's too much!" At any rate, don't mind, 'cause I've spoken to the faculty (I keep telling myself) and from now on, they are going to read it with you. Love and Kisses (A.I.)

Col. J. Morris Releases Plans For C.O.T.C.

Permanent Force Will Supervise Officer Training

The commanding officer of the McGill University Contingent C.O.T.C., Lt.-Col. J. M. Morris, M.C., V.D., in a statement to the Daily has outlined as follows the role that the C.O.T.C. will play in the present post-war period.

Peace-loving nations must maintain and equip properly trained forces to discourage potential aggressor nations. The University C.O.T.C.'s are expected to perform a very important function in the Canadian Army Reserve, which will supplement the Permanent Force, he stated.

Military training at universities will cover a period of four years. This will be equivalent to one period per week of the university term plus two weeks in camp each year.

Permanent Force officers will be appointed for the training and administration of the corps. However, additional officers and N.C.O.'s will be appointed.

Basic training will comprise the first two years with more progressive training in the second. The third year training will be based on the Company Commander's Course and the fourth year on the Junior Staff Officer's Course. Third and fourth year instruction will feature the training of first and second year students under the direction of Permanent Force personnel.

Former C.O.T.C. members will be given credit for any previous training they may have had in the C.O.T.C. provided they can qualify in their T.O.E.T.'s, Lt.-Col. Morris explained.

A large number of men returned from active service, who did not hold commissioned rank, will be entitled to start in the third year officer training. These latter are extended a warm welcome. Their Continued on Page Four

Windsor Strike Topic Of Varsity Meeting

Toronto, November 15.—(C.U.P.)—Five Varsity campus organizations were represented last night at the first meeting of a committee formed to discover and present the facts concerning the recent industrial strikes.

It was disclosed at the meeting that the committee had already begun its investigation. A telegram was sent to the Ford Motor Company of Windsor, requesting a brief outline of the company's position in the Windsor dispute.

A telegram was also sent to the Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Federal Minister of Labor, with a request for information as to the position of the government. Similar messages were sent to Murray Cotterill, chairman of the Toronto Ford Strike Committee, and the United Electrical Workers Union, which is picketing the Imperial Optical Company.

Internat'l Students Day Rally Planned For November 27

De Blonay Broadcasts Tomorrow; Local Event Held Ten Days Later

A student rally to commemorate International Students' Day is scheduled to take place on Nov. 27, according to a statement by Mel Shiffman, chairman of the I.S.D. committee.

It is felt by the council that the tradition of International Students Day should be continued through the post-war years so as to encourage cooperation and good will among the students of the world.

The purpose of the rally is to honour the memory of those students who during the recent war, and before it, gave their lives in the fight against Fascism, and to promote student understanding in the world.

Mr. Andre De Blonay of Geneva, Switzerland, will broadcast over CBC Trans Canada hookup tomorrow at 5.00 p.m. in commemoration of International Students Day. He is being sponsored by the University of Toronto's committee of the International Students Society. At the same time this rally is being planned, the city of Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia, is playing host to students representing nearly every country in the world, including Canada. These students are attempting to set up the nucleus of an International Student Organization.

Tomorrow a solemn requiem will be celebrated in one of the cathedrals. Continued on page 6

Newman Clubs Hold Convention

McGill Students Leave To Attend Meeting Held at Western U.

On November 16, 17 and 18, the Newman Club of Western University is to play host to the Newman Clubs of each Canadian University, from U.B.C. to Dalhousie University, and also many of the large American universities.

The purpose of these annual conventions is to bring together all the members so they may compare ideas and ideals. The conventions are presented each year by different universities, McGill having sponsored the one in 1942.

Last night, about 15 members left by car and train to attend the proceedings which will present varied entertainment from Friday morning to Sunday afternoon.

Saturday morning, Gerald Mulclair, Med. 3, will represent McGill by presenting a brief, 10 minute paper on the subject "Problems Facing the Catholic Student in the Post War World." A discussion will follow.

Saturday morning proceedings will also include reports to be given by each club, concerning its social activities, membership, and meetings.

A few highlights of the week-end include an acquaintance dance, Friday night at the C.C.C., and "Opening Night" to be held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel London, Saturday night, and a Brasilia Hall presentation of "The Dream of Gerontius," Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's Hall. The latter, one of Newman's best-known lyrical plays, will be presented in honor of the Newman Centenary.

CAMSI Policy To Be Decided

Masthead of Journal To Attend Meeting In Medical Building

The 14-member staff of the CAMSI Journal is scheduled to attend tonight's discussion of the proposed CAMSI policy for 1945-46, under the chairmanship of Bob Black, Med III, president of the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes, in the Men's Common Room of the Med Building, at 7.30 p.m. Heading the Journal Staff will be Honor M. Kidd, Med III, who read the Journal's report to the Winnipeg conference almost two weeks ago.

Arising directly out of the report's recommendations concerning improvements for the Journal, is the conference's decision to increase the annual issues of that publication to four, to take effect next session. The new dates on which the Journal will appear are: Nov. 1, Jan. 1, March 1, and May 1. In the past, the CAMSI Journal has appeared only twice a year.

Tonight's McGill CAMSI meeting is planned as a preliminary to a full Med Undergrad Society meeting, for discussion and ratification of the "Statement of Policy" evolved by the new National Executive on the basis of the Winnipeg Conference's decisions. Present at the preliminary meeting in Douglas Hall tonight will be the M.U.S. executive, the three class executives, the CAMSI Journal staff, and seven additional elected representatives from each class. ### Debaters Approve Compulsory Training

Toronto, November 16.—(CUP)—The motion "Resolved that every Canadian youth should have one year of compulsory military training" was upheld by a vote of 60-21 at a meeting in Toronto of the University of Toronto Debating Union. A speaker for the affirmative held the opinion that this plan of training would be a part of the programme for national fitness and would teach tolerance, democracy and nationalism.

The speakers for the negative stressed the fact that this year would come at a time when the young man would have started working and would find it hard to leave. They also pointed out that such military training would make for disunity.

Union Ballroom To Be Scene of Meet at 5 p.m.

The McGill Students' Society will meet at 5 p.m. this afternoon, in the Union Ballroom, to discuss the problems of Atomic Energy. The direct result of a petition, signed by over 500 students and presented to the Students' Executive Council, this meeting follows similar action by several American universities.

In order to speed up matters this afternoon, representatives of several campus clubs have drawn up the following resolutions as a basis for discussion:

RESOLUTIONS

We, the students of McGill University, urge that the formulation of international policies on the use and control of atomic energy be based on the recognition of the following facts:

(1) That the atomic bomb is one of the most destructive forces known to mankind against which there is no military defence and in the production of which no single power or narrow group of powers can have an enduring monopoly.

(2) That any effort to formulate foreign policy on the basis of a temporary superiority in atomic weapons will force all nations into an atomic armaments race thereby creating a world of fear and hatred in which all nations will face sudden destruction.

(3) That freedom of scientific investigation and publication in a spirit of international cooperation are essential to scientific progress. We therefore urge:

(1) That a conference of the governments of the United States, Canada, Great Britain, and the Soviet Union, be held immediately to prevent a competitive armaments race.

(2) That a system of international control of atomic weapons be established within the framework of the United Nations Organization.

(3) That the United Nations Organization establish international machinery to pool mankind's knowledge and resources for the application of atomic energy and to make these freely available to all member nations.

(4) That this resolution be forwarded by telegram by the Secretary-Treasurer on the instructions of the President of the McGill Students' Society to:

- (a) The Anglo-Canadian-American conference now in session at Washington, D.C.
- (b) The Prime Minister of Canada, Ottawa, Ont.
- (c) The leaders of all the Canadian political parties.
- (d) The student administrative councils of all Canadian Universities, urging similar action.

RESOLUTION 2

Whereas, we, the students of McGill University, believe that (1) Canada is destined to play a leading role in all future developments of atomic energy and that (2) In the atomic age we have now entered, the development of Continued on Page Four

Educational Rehabilitation

International Students' Service was organized to provide us with a working method by which we may participate in furthering the educational facilities of the world. It is needless to cite the examples of the Prague University students who sacrificed their lives for their ideals, and the many other colleges throughout the world who have so recently taken an active, and often tragic stand against those forces we oppose in common; their tales have been written in the life-blood of their countries.

For our own part, we are called upon for little proof of our more sincere reasons for wishing to further education. Should we be faced with crises similar to those with which other college students have been faced, it is to be expected that our reaction would be the same.

With this in mind, it would seem an easy thing for us to contribute to the Service which provides us with a means for assisting those students with whom we sympathize. And yet, possibly because it seems such a little thing to do, we are too apt to neglect it. Perhaps we are not approached by any member of the ISS Committee for our contribution. Perhaps our dollar seems like a weighty bit out of our allowance for one week, in comparison to the little it means in actual figures in a campaign such as this.

The International Students' Service campaign which will take place on our campus next week is a very small way by which we can show our true evaluation of the benefits of education. In the rehabilitation work which is being done over in Europe, the reorganization of colleges and the re-establishment of students is playing a vital part. Our individual dollars will be held responsible for the success or failure of that rehabilitation.

We are not asked for any great sacrifice, if we were there would be little doubt as to the response. We are asked to do only one little concrete thing to prove our sincere regard for education and for the principles behind education: We are asked to give one dollar. Simple? Yes. But harder because it is so simple. No one will sing your praises or thank you particularly... except perhaps some chap in Europe who will take down a book from a shelf and continue his studies... thanks to ISS and YOU!

Yea! Team!

Tomorrow afternoon, students of McGill will have their first opportunity to see the college spirit of our confreres from Dawson. In a football contest between two teams who are unbeaten in their own leagues, the first real contact between McGill and Dawson will take place, and one may rest assured that the Dawson group will go all out in an effort to show the McGill team and students that they have accomplished something in their short stay at the newest addition to the University.

We have seen several varieties of college spirit during the past four weeks—the so-called vandalism in which some of the other colleges have indulged, as well as the devil-may-care attitude of most of the students who were glad to see Intercollegiate sports back.

However, from all reports and from firsthand information, the Dawson spirit is different. The students there have the advantage over those at McGill of living together, with the result that they are determined to see that Dawson is first and foremost in everything. That they got results is shown from the facts that they

International Students Day

WHY NOVEMBER 17 BECAME I.S.D.

In the second week of November, 1939, Jan Opletal, a 24-year-old student of medicine at the University of Prague died at the hands of the Gestapo. He had been shot during a demonstration for freedom on Czechoslovak Independence Day. Thousands of students attended his funeral. The next day, on direct orders from Hitler, the Stormtroopers, the Schutzstaffeln and units of the regular army converged on Prague. By late evening all University buildings and student hostels were ringed with machine guns. Then at 3:30 a.m. on November 17, the Nazis struck. A rocket soared as a signal and armed troops rushed into student dormitories and homes. Many students were shot in the raid, others were beaten and herded into cars and buses. Under heavy guard they were driven to the Ruzyn airport in the suburbs of Prague.

For the rest of the day the students were tortured. Some were stripped, drenched with fire hoses, and forced to lie for hours on icy ground. Others were made to run the gauntlet of a line of Nazis armed with whips and bludgeons. Throughout the day the volleys of firing squads ripped out as 156 student leaders were executed—1200 were taken to concentration camps in Germany. Many teachers, arrested in the morning, suffered the same brutalities. Czechoslovak universities were closed by the order of the Gestapo.

THE MEANING OF THE DAY

Czechoslovak students who survived the horror of November 17th massacre in Prague, and had made their way to Britain through the Battle of France, sought some means of commemorating their friends. They discussed their ideas with English students and the conception of International Students Day grew more quickly than they could talk. From a single meeting in London in the autumn of 1941, it was transferred to a commemoration and dedication reaching New York and Chungking, Delhi, Canberra, Moscow and Jerusalem.

Today, International Students Day is a day of dedication for students throughout the world. It memorializes these students and teachers everywhere who have fallen victim to the brutality of the attack of aggressor powers on free, democratic education; it also pledges all the energies of free students to the winning of the peace.

STUDENTS DIE FOR FREEDOM

The Story of Guy Moquet

Twenty-seven men who had been prisoners for a long time were executed at Chateaubriand in France as a reprisal for the death of a German officer, killed while they were imprisoned. Among them was a 17-year-old student, Guy Moquet. When his name was read out, he replied "present," and walked rapidly forward. His fellow prisoners said it was a "crime to kill a kid like that" and the wife of one of the other martyrs offered to take his place, but this was refused. As the men were loaded into the trucks, carrying them to the place of execution, they sang the "Marseillaise," then the "Chant du Depart" and finally Guy Moquet sang "La Jeune Garde." With him in the truck was Laforgue, a schoolmaster, Bourki, a schoolmaster, Lalet, a student of Paris, and 23 others who worked in railways and mines and on the land. In his last letter written a few minutes before his death, Guy Moquet wrote: "Certainly I would have liked to live, but what I hope with all my heart is that my death will serve a useful purpose. A last farewell to all my friends, and to my brother whom I love very much. Let him study so that later on he may be a man. Seventeen years and a half. My life has been very short, but I have no regrets."

During January, four law students from Copenhagen were arrested together with two graduates for "assisting parachutists in the Allied Intelligence Service." Technical students of the same university have been placing their specialized knowledge of explosives at the disposal of sabotage groups and at least one has been killed in this dangerous work.

In Luxembourg 165 boys and girls were arrested for participation in the general strike and its accompanying demonstrations. Five Norwegian students were executed last year without trial as a reprisal for the assassination of a German official, while in Trondheim the Gestapo opened fire on demonstrating students, wounding many and arresting over 100.

The Trial of Arnaud Fraiteur

There was the trial in Brussels of the executioners of a Belgian quelling, in which the central character was Arnaud Fraiteur, a student 19 years of age. Arnaud Fraiteur was neither a Jew nor a Communist nor a criminal. He was the son of a wealthy stockbroker living in comfortable quarters and was intelligent and of a determined disposition. He had made several attempts to leave Belgium in order to reach the army in London, and because of his failure to do so had to join the resistance movement. The prosecutor demanded his death, and the Nazis' report of the trial says "There was not the slightest movement, not a trace of emotion on the young face of Arnaud Fraiteur. He was quite indifferent. He neither excused his 'crime' nor asked for mercy."

won every football game they played, despite the fact that they had little or no equipment and a poor field, and that their opponents were backed by organizations of long standing in athletic endeavors.

In their first venture at competition against McGill, the Interfaculty track meet, they entered more men in every meet than any other group and with this impetus they came second.

Now they are out to defeat the McGill team, winners of the Quebec University football championship. It would not surprise us to see the whole of Dawson turn out to the game at Molson Stadium. It would be very pleasant to see the Montreal students get out and provide the Dawson rooters with some vocal competition—something which we are sure would cement the bond of unity between the two.

May the better team win.

REPORTS OF I.S.D. 1944

News from Europe

A message came through from Czechoslovakia itself. And a stirring account reached Britain from Yugoslavia, where a Congress of Youth Leaders was being held at the time. On the 17th a celebration was held, "somewhere in Yugoslavia" and broadcast over the Belgrade radio and all the newspapers published reports on the meeting, as well as the message which was sent from Yugoslavia to the other countries.

The Greek students broadcast a message on the Athens Radio. Switzerland and Sweden continued their tradition for support for International Students Day, with mass meetings. Norwegian students underground and other Norwegian students studying in Sweden sent messages to London for International Students Day.

News of the celebration of International Students Day in different parts of Europe, has come partly in the form of messages for the Day itself, and partly in reports subsequently received.

Immediately across the Channel, the Union of Patriotic Students, a great assembly of the student representatives of the French Resistance movement, joined in rendering homage to the Czechoslovakia and other students who fell in the struggle against Fascist barbarism, and undertook to do its utmost in the regaining of world liberty.

From across their border came a message from the Free University of Brussels, which sent "fraternal greetings to the students of the friendly nations" and said that its students were "carrying on the struggle in the same spirit, and with the same brotherhood as before, but now in the open." Another message came from Liege.

A special radio programme was broadcast in Belgium. It reviewed the persecution of students throughout Europe and the world, and included messages from organizations abroad, from a Belgian Professor, and from Monsieur Serval, President of the General Students Association of Brussels, the university contributed so much to the Resistance movement.

Czechoslovakia students who in previous years had been so active in organizing International Students Day in England and throughout the world by radio, this year were on active service on the Continent. They sent a message to London, recalling their grief in previous years, as they waited in Great Britain for an opportunity to fight, and expressing their joy in observing International Students Day on the battlefield itself.

Gr. Britain

The national Union of Students of England and Wales began preparations for International Students Day two months beforehand. On the 17th November, in England and Wales, over 30 meetings were held, almost all of them in universities and colleges. They varied from chapel assemblies with special prayers for the occasion, to big union gatherings with speakers from different countries. In Cambridge a special international exhibition was arranged, and in some places films were shown, and concerts organized. A common feature of all meetings was the collection of money for student relief in Europe and the Far East.

The biggest meeting took place in London, at the Central Hall, Westminster. Here were gathered several hundred students from the University colleges and other educational institutions of the Metropolis, together with representatives of all nations. Greetings and messages from Universities throughout the world were received, and read.

China

International Students Day was actively supported in China. A meeting was held in Chungking, and it was agreed to send a message to Britain, which said that the celebration of the day expressed "not only the sense of justice of young people of the united nations, but symbolised their spirit of co-operation and close friendship."

The Chungking meeting was held in the Youth Hall, and 2,000 people were present. Among the speakers was General Chank Chin Chung, General Secretary of the San Min Chu I Youth Corps, and the Czechoslovak military attaché, Major Joroslav Sustar, who was an eyewitness of the students' arrest in Prague, in 1939.

The immense difficulties of transport and contact by written word are illustrated by the fact that at this meeting the publications of British students on International Students Day, 1943, were distributed, having only recently been received, and that the N.U.S. received a report of the 1943 meeting in China only in March, 1945.

U.S.A.

In the U.S. meeting observations were held in at least 34 colleges. The largest meeting was in Brooklyn College, New York, where 5,000 students gathered to hear Mrs. Roosevelt give an address, followed by Soviet, Czechoslovak and Italian student speakers. Books and money for food and clothing were collected at a number of colleges, special services and two minutes' silence were observed at several centres, and practical services such as blood donation, were encouraged.

In Chicago groups on the campus combined for the first time to organize International Students' Day. The National Union of Czechoslovak students in the U.S.A. arranged a big meeting. Hunter College sponsored a rally, under the direction of the United States Student Assembly. Speakers represented all countries of the world.

U.S.S.R.

On International Students Day, the highlight of the Russian events was an exhibition entitled "British Youth in Wartime." At the opening of the exhibition a large number of famous young people, writers, Red Army men and others were present, including the famous student of Kiev, Ludmila Pavlichenko. Mr. Balfour, of the British Embassy, opened the exhibition with a speech stressing the debt of all people to the youth of the Soviet Union and of the British Commonwealth, and the responsibility with which they would have to build a new and happier future for mankind.

Meetings were held in colleges of the capital cities of the Soviet Republics, and a message was sent to London signed by three leading students. A number of universities arranged exhibitions illustrating activities of students, and displaying correspondence between students at home and at the front.

Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Byelorussian and other large universities at their meetings, sent greetings to the senior universities of Britain and America. The meetings stressed the participation of students in the war effort, and were addressed by student soldiers, and students who had participated in vacation work in mills, factories, and collective farms, or helped to rehabilitate educational premises, destroyed by the Nazis. On the 18th of November, students formed volunteer groups to help on building jobs on the railways, on hospitals, colleges and universities. Money earned on the day was handed to a fund for aid of the students and universities who had suffered at the hands of the Nazis.

Central and South America

In Mexico, press and radio publicity gave prominence to International Students Day. A special program was arranged by the General Students Confederation, together with the Czechoslovak Embassy. Talks on the radio were followed by songs and music appropriate to the occasion. A special Czechoslovak program was broadcast later on Mexican newspapers, all published special articles.

In Cuba the students of Havana University held a special meeting, at which were present, students, staff, and diplomatic representatives of U.S., U.S.S.R., Great Britain, China and Poland. Added publicity was provided by a radio play, and by full length broadcast of the above meeting on Cuban stations.

The Brazilian Union of Students arranged a big meeting in the Students Hall in Rio de Janeiro. Dr. Nosek, Czechoslovak Charge d'Affaires presided. Reports were heard describing the events at the University of Prague, and at various other Czechoslovak Universities. Every newspaper printed reports of this meeting, and many printed special articles and interviews.

A special talk on Czechoslovakia was broadcast in Ecuador.

Celebrations, meetings, speeches, with the occasion of International Students Day, were also held in the following countries. Australia, New Zealand, South Africa (Cape Town), Canada, Palestine, Algeria, Morocco, and Syria.

Where's Joe?

On the Way to his Old Job

Yes, Joe is going back to his old job, just as thousands of other Canadian service men are at this time.

They will be greeting old friends, and making many new ones. Be a leader in extending a hearty hand of welcome to the men who took time off to look after the business of free people all over the world.

Tell them that it was a job well done, and show them they have a new job well worth doing.

THE VETS GO TO COLLEGE

Wallace Reyburn, who writes "The Vets Go To College", feature article in this week's issue of The Standard, is perhaps more qualified to write on this subject than anyone else in Canada. As war correspondent for The Standard overseas from 1942 to 1945, he was with the Canadian Army at Dieppe, Africa, Sicily, Italy and northwest Europe. Now back in Canada, he has visited both McGill and Toronto Universities, talked with both the faculty and the students to learn about some of the problems of servicemen who have gone back to college. Read his article this week in The Standard Magazine.

Other features you will want to read in The Standard this week include: the photostory in the rotogravure "Cancer Clinic" which tells of the well-established cancer clinics in Saskatchewan... the story of Sudeten farmers in Saskatchewan featured in The Standard Magazine... this week's complete novel entitled "A Fitting Habitation"... plus, of course, all the best comics and the latest weekend news.

by Shirley Grover

To all eternal things I say,
To every human heart I plead,
To you, dear friend, I ask, I beg
Restore my heart; it bursts—
I bleed.
Each sorrow within my soul is wrought
By sinful vengeance, grief, and lust,
Forgoing life, turn not my love
To hate; my quivering heart, to dust.

Hold me, take me, I fall, I fall,
The earth, it staggers, and I am
weak,
I bleed, my heart is torn, and I
I pain. I've lost the soul I seek.
Can there still be a chance, a hope
For my poor heart to stagger on,
Can I limp and sway until I find
A firm and tender heart, and so live on?
I waken! I love! to you I pray
Dear friend, to you my heart I give,
Each throbbing beat to soothe,
to love,
Each sorrow to carress—I live!

LETTER FORUM

HUMAN NEED

The Editor, McGill Daily.
Dear Sir,—It seems that the important problem of the Jews in Europe has completely passed from the student notice on this campus. Is it because students here now realize that a practical responsibility rests with us, and not merely with the British Government? The idea of Jewish immigration to Canada and the United States was brought up, but received next to no publicity in The Daily. Are we simply to forget this awful problem of human need as much a spiritual as a material one?
Nor has been observable any particular "crusading" in the McGill Daily on the subject of FOOD FOR EUROPE. Are we at McGill going to be as late in supporting this movement as we were in backing the clothing drive?

How easy it is to forget, when we have all we need and much more, that hundreds across the sea (not only Jews) may starve and freeze to death this winter.
Let us have some publicity about the "Save Europe Now" movement.
ANGELA CASSON,
Science 3.

COLLECTIONS

The Editor, McGill Daily.
Sir: In Tuesday's Daily appeared a letter by Mr. Shiftman in which I was accused of using Hitler's tactics. What were the grounds for such charges? I had commented on the rather high-handed manner in which it had been decided to approach McGill students on the Campus to solicit money for the Ford strikers.
It has been a custom at McGill that all collections should be made through, or at least with the approval of, the Students' Council. Collections have been, and will be, made for all worthy causes, and have received generous support from the student body. I made no comment on the merits of the Windsor strike, which has at least a certain amount of justification. If the student body considers that the strikers deserve financial support, then there should be an organized campaign to solicit funds. What I disliked was the manner in which less than a score of S.L.C. members passed upon a motion which should, in reality, have been the subject for careful consideration by our elected campus representatives. This is a glaring example of the tactics of such people who preach democracy yet try to undermine the whole foundation of our democratic system by setting up their own groups to displace the representatives of the majority. —R.

(Ed. Note: This subject is closed for the time being.)

COLUMNS

To The Editor, McGill Daily.
Dear Sir,—"Freshman Follies" is just that, and drivel of the most puerile, unimaginative, and unamusing variety. If you must print infantile wise-cracking in long tedious doses, at least relegate it to the back page. "Short Circuits," and "My Column By Me" fall in the same category. May we suggest that you stick to club notices until you are able to unearth some real wit or humour.

As long as we are on the subject of female histrionics, may we add that the reaction at R.V.C. to the happenings of Wednesday night was undoubtedly the most disgusting, terrifying, and amusing part of the whole show. How easily small-town mid-Victorian "morality" breaks down when confronted by even the adolescent imitation of a real issue.
Politely But Passionately,
J. C. Nihil.

WRONG AGAIN

The Editor, McGill Daily,
Montreal, Que.
Dear Sir,—Wrong again. In your editorial of November 5th, under the title "Tis Death to Hide," you mention English 3 as the only course in creative writing offered at McGill. This fall, another course, English 5, has been inaugurated. This course is given by Mrs. Duncan, and the course is of an intermediate grade between English 2 and English 3.
Yours truly,
CREIGHTON DOUGLAS,
B. Sc. III.

(Ed. Note:—Sorry Mr. Douglas, if you say so, we must be wrong . . . it was our mistake entirely. But may we suggest that in this case there is yet another reason for more contributions to The Daily's short-story competition, which was the subject of the editorial you refer to.)

ANOTHER FORMAL

Dear Sir,—Speaking for the many frustrated students who were unable to buy tickets for the Junior Prom, I would like to suggest that an Arts, Science, and Commerce formal be held in the near future. Since all undergraduates are eligible to buy tickets for the Junior Prom, and since the Engineers & Meds hold exclusive formals to their own faculties, the students in Arts, Science, & Commerce find that most of the tickets have been bought by the students of the other faculties, and we are left in the cold. Therefore, I would like to suggest that the Arts and Science Executive should take action to provide a similar affair for members of their faculty.
Yours in Anticipation,
EUGENE H. GORDON B.Sc.3.

COEDS PLEASE

The Editor in Chief McGill Daily.
Dear Sir,—In view of the aroused comment by the coeds of the campus I feel that it is my duty to refute the arguments presented by these young ladies. Both Janet and Sue have misconstrued my effort and have tried to make an issue of the whole thing . . . It was just an attempt at fostering better relationships between the members of the campus and not a slam at the coeds. Admittedly, McGill being a city college where many of the students do not see each other from day to day unless their lectures conflict, it is hard to get acquainted but the effort required to smile or nod to an acquaintance or even a classmate is not too great for the study burdened minds of the coeds. It seems as if "reputation" is the great concern of the females about the campus and if a reputation can be shot just by saying hello to people you see constantly — then I've had it . . .
However the Veteran's Society is proposing to foster a series of tea dances and socials in which the coeds of the campus can meet the vets all legal-like but the usual apathy will probably accompany this endeavour . . . A poor turnout on the part of the stag coeds. Here's the chance you have been asking for and its up to you girls now. Here's to it . . .
Sassy.

THIS R. V. C.

by R.C.V.

Hi Ya Kids. This is the first appearance of your newest column, and probably the last. I've already used up the ideas I've been collecting for the past four years, so now I'm counting on you to give me the dope. This is a gossip column, so give me the gossip, particularly from R.V.C., it blends with my initials so nicely. Type it, write it or chip it on stone and leave it for me (not Me) in the Daily Office. If I don't get contributions I'll write the column myself, and you wouldn't want that.

GRANDESCUNT AUCTA LABORE.

It is with great pleasure that we note the important position that McGill is taking in World Affairs these days, what with eight clubs clearing up the Japanese Canadian Question, and with the C.A.Sc.W. internationalising the Atomic Bomb, to say nothing of the fact that the McGill Law School has been recognized in the War Criminal trials. We understand that the Argentine Government is quite worried that we may follow up our breaking off of diplomatic relations with an open declaration of war.

SADDEST SIGHT OF THE WEEK.

An enamoured young stalwart, one of the athletes of second year, standing and shivering by the Roddick Gates for six hours on Sunday night waiting for the four hundred to get back from Toronto. It's great to be young.

WANT AD.

Wanted, some sweet and venturesome young damsel of exceptional beauty and terpsichorean talent to crash the Junior Prom with R.C.V. (I could not get a ticket). I shall provide a feather pillow for her to fall on if we are thrown out, and we can always go down to the corner drug store and drown our sorrows in Malted Milk.

OVERHEARD AT DAWSON.

"The ysa that we have no traditions out here. That's not true, when we pass in through the gates we spit."

MUSIC.

The general consensus of campus opinion agrees that the opening sing song of the new series in the Conservatorium last Sunday was a howling success. Only one thing was missing from the excellent turnout, namely, students form the Conservatorium, only one of whom turned up.

ATTENTION RED AND WHITE REVIEW.

And now as a finishing note to this column I have arranged to publish for the first time a new song that is sweeping R.V.C. Seymour Greenman and Charles Wassermann have my full permission to steal it for the Review.

The coffee that they give us, they say is very fine,
It's good for cuts and bruises and tastes like Iodine.

Chorus.
Oh I don't want no more of R.V.C.
Gee Ma I wanna go home.

They say the rolls they give us are really very fine,
But one fell off the table and killed a friend of mine.

Chorus.
The Upperclassmen worry because the morgue is bare,
But they shouldn't worry, the corpse is never there.

Chorus.
They say the beds they give us are really very fine,
But how the hell should they know, they never slept in mine.

Chorus.
They say the men in Montreal are really very great,
But how the hell should I know, I never had a date.

Chorus.
The English class is excellent, I really must confess,
But I'd rather be with Dando, with seven hundred less.

Chorus.
Yeah, I know the army got it first, but so what.

Laughs

The prize for Paralyzing Puns this year falls into the lap of the perpetrator of the following horror. The scene is any restaurant and the waitress speaks first—Hawaii, mister? You must be Hungry?
Gent: Yes, Siam. And I can't Rumania long either. Venice lunch ready?
Gent: Whatever's ready. But can't Jamaica cook step on the gas?
Waitress: Odessa laugh! But Alaska.
Gent: Don't do me favors. Just put a Cuba sugar in my Java.
Waitress: Don't you be Sicily, big boy. Sweden it yourself. I'm only here to Serbia.
Gent: Denmark my check and call the Bosphorus. I hope he'll Kenya. I don't Bolivia know who I am!
Waitress: Canada noise! I don't Carribean. You sure Ararat!
Gent: Samoa your wisecracks? What's got India? D'you think this arguing Alps business? Be Nice!

Dawson Art Club Holds First Meeting

The Dawson Art Club held their first general meeting last night, under the leadership of Ivan Fainmel, Fainmel, formerly a part-time student of the Art Association of Montreal, organized the group after many requests for an art club were presented to him.

At the meeting it was decided that no officers will be chosen and that the membership will be open to all interested students. Also, there will be no further general meetings this year.

The program will start as soon as possible and will include many aspects of art: namely water colors, oils, charcoal and sketching. No fees will be charged other than those required for the immediate purchase of supplies.

As an added attraction, guest artists from the Art Association of Montreal will visit the studio at Dawson.

M. Fricker, B.A. (McGill), Agnes Duncan, M.A. and Allan Thomson, B.A. The last three to be assistant lecturers.

Tigers Clash with Dawson For Intermediate Grid Title

Football will be making its exit for the current year tomorrow afternoon at 2.15 when the Intermediate Intercollegiate Championship will be decided. And it will be a case of two undefeated teams, the McGill Tigers, plus the stars of the Wildcat squad and Dawson College unbeaten aggregation meet in what should be a battle of Titans, Intermediate style.

Neither team has had too much trouble with their opponents during the regular season and in fact made mincemeat of the opposition. However, the Tigers were in a comparative state of disorganization when the game was scheduled having thought that they had hung up their cleats for the season. However, after a few practices including a signal drill last night they look alright with their timing on and Jon Ballon, their ace kicker holding on to the form that made him a standout all season.

DAWSON
For the boys from St. Johns, a win would be particularly welcome as they have been working under difficulties all season and surmounting them as they came along. They had a lot of difficulty in getting equipment early in the year and also they didn't have a great deal of time in which to practice once the school term began and they found out who was who.

But in spite of this, they have won every game this year, showing great strength especially on the defence. So it will really be a question of the more or less irresistible object meeting an immovable object and the result will be the

Cambell Prunes Red Puck Squads After Workouts

Difficult for Dawson Men to Come in For Practices Every Day

With four practices under their belts, Dave Campbell's Red hockey squad is beginning to take shape. Up to the present, he has had to divide all the hopefuls up into two groups, but now Dave has got enough of a line on the players to begin pruning operations.

Actually, the Coach has started cutting down on the size of the squad and can almost accommodate all the hopefuls at the same time. Although the team may be a bit light up front, Campbell is quite satisfied he will have a team that will be strong enough to let the other teams in the I.H.L. know they were in the hunt for the Thomson Trophy that graced the Union for the first three years of its existence.

HARD FOR DAWSONITES

The only fly in the ointment is the difficulty that some of the players attending Dawson College are encountering. They are eligible to play, but they have difficulty in getting in for practices in that no arrangements have been made for their transportation. Porteous and Peterson were in yesterday for the practice at their own expense as would Jimmy O'Connor have been had it not been for an exam. But in the future it is doubtful if they will be able to get in for more

With the Dawsonites still fresh from their three victories in as many starts this season, enthusiasm was at a new high around the St. Johns campus today in preparation for the crucial tilt against the undefeated McGill Tigers at Molson Stadium this Saturday afternoon.

The Dawson team composed totally of first year students, has come through as the winners of the Intermediate section; and while previously representing an unknown quantity, have established themselves as the fighting eleven of the gridiron. While the Tigers have been reinforced by the star performers of the other McGill intermediate team, the Wildcats, the Dawsonites should be no means be considered the underdogs in Saturday's match.

CAST-OFF EQUIPMENT
Featuring cast-off equipment, the Dawson team have been holding practices in off-study hours on landing strips of the campus, without the advice of a paid coach. It is this fighting, never say die spirit which has carried the St. Johns team to their present standing in the loop and with which Coach AJ Cagney's aggregation will face the McGill squad.

In anticipation of a sustained offensive by the opposing team, the Dawson defence system has been tuned to perfection featuring Joe Long, John Conrath, Dave Chofield, Tony Timmuth and Gino Pierson.

Semi-final Games In Softball Begin At 5 P.M. Today

Stiff Competition Seen As Powerful Teams Prepare For Battle

After a very successful season, highlighted by all-around good play, the softball season is rapidly coming to a close. The semi-finals featuring the top-place teams of the four sections of the Intramural set-up, will get under way this afternoon at 5 p.m. at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

TWIN BILL
In the first game of the twin bill, Engineering III the defending champions of last year's softball league, take on the powerful Arts and Science II aggregation who have yet to be defeated after four games of play. At 6 p.m. the second tilt will feature the Grads squad against the Arts and Science III and IV powerhouse.

GRADS

The Grads, who were runners up in last year's competition, boast a strong hitting and fielding team, backed by a pitcher to compete with anything the opposing squad can bring together. With Solomon the pitcher, featuring the Arts and Science nine, the game should end up in a terrific pitching duel.

The winners of the above games will meet in the finals one week from today, Friday, November 23 and the victorious team will contest the Intramural Softball Championship in a game against our St. John's branch—the Dawsonites.

WOMEN IN SPORTS

We were always in favour of women having the vote. We also look with kindly mien on women's hopes for having equal pay for the same jobs. We don't even mind the W.C.T.U. But the powers that be preserve us from a woman in sports. Any kind of women, even females of the opposite sex.

Take the women sports fans as a case in point. And to further

THE CO-ED CORNER

To get back to the cloistered confines of this fair institution, we wonder if anyone has ever seen a co-ed at a football game. Now, in most cases, ask this fair young thing what the differential coefficient of the square root of a positive number is and she can snap it out reasonably quickly.

But transfer the scene of action to the south side stands at Molson Stadium at a seat along the fifty-five yard line and what a show of dumbness is put on.

To begin with, this babe and her escort don't walk in until well into the second half. The fellow glances hurriedly at the scoreboard and sees that the count reads "0-0".

She does the same thing and delightedly squeals, "Oh goody, goody, we haven't missed a thing."

Then the barrage of questions starts. The poor fellow spends the whole day explaining that the McGill line is seven men out on the field not what males tell co-eds to impress them and that a lateral pass is not what a guy tries in the dark when he's out with a girl, since it only means flipping the ball sideways.

And if that isn't enough, she wants to know if the grid-iron is a new way of pressing your clothes and why can't they ride home in the coach instead of a street-car.

By the time a fellow gets through explaining all this there is very little enjoyment left in the game for him and we doubt if he even remembers the score. Not only that, but she has probably been asking the same question at football games for the past five years

CONCLUSION

Now our point is this. We don't mind if someone can't understand a relatively simple affair like a football game (despite the fact that nuclear physics is considered child's play by the same person) but we do object to the fact that on the few occasions women stride into the kitchen they are now starting to carry the same befuddledness with them. The result is that on account of Ladies Day's at baseball games and the general increase of women in attendance at all sports the nation is in dire danger of suffering from an awe-inspiring epidemic of peptic ulcers. Or don't you follow us?

All right Myrtle Cook, we'll go quietly.

Badminton Club Holds Tournament

Ladder Drawn Up In Men's Doubles; Try Token System

A very successful informal tournament was held by the Badminton Club this past week. Both Women's and Men's doubles were played; the winners of the former contest were B. Bremner and B. Judas, while Flemming and S. Geddes led the men's play.

As a result of the night's play, a ladder tournament for the men's section has been drawn up. This ladder includes the semi-finalists and finalists of the tourney along with last year's team. The draw stands as follows:

Burris and Stubbs; Cullen and Robinson; Fleming and Geddes; Church and Dixon; McFarlane and Zimmerman; Bowie and Townsend.

To this list may be added the names of any men's teams who wish to contest the positions of those already established on the ladder. Any team may challenge other teams not more than three positions above it on the list. Similar ladders are being planned for the other events.

TOKEN SYSTEM PLANNED

To make possible a fair distribution of the cost of birds used during an evening of play, the club intends to sell ten cent tokens along with the regular forty cent birds. A player who puts a new bird into a game of doubles will receive one token from each of the other three players. In a game of singles, two tokens are paid by the winner's opponent. Tokens will change hands only when a new bird enters play. When necessary, four tokens may be exchanged at the wicket for one bird.

Thus, for forty cents, a player may have the use of four new birds during one evening's play. The success of this system depends

Canucks Win 2-0; Take NHL Lead

Raynor Is Phenomenal As Rangers Outclassed; Wings Top Chicago 5-2

By LARRY SIROTA
Les Canadiens moved into first place last night at the Forum by shutting out the Rangers, 2-0, in a game that was marked by erratic play and the phenomenal goaltending of Charles Raynor. Detroit by virtue of their 5-2 win over the Black Hawks, share the runner up spot with the latter and are hot on Canucks' heels.

The Canucks were really flying last night, outskating and outshooting their New York rivals by a wide margin but their efforts were nullified as Raynor pulled off seemingly impossible saves to thwart the local sharpshooters. The two goals were scored by Jimmy Peters and Murph Chamberlain at the 18 minute mark of the first and third period, each assisting the other's marker.

THIRD LINE STARS

It was the third line that provided all the action with Chamberlain being the individual star for Montreal. For the Blue Shirts, Raynor, Neil Colville, who looked like the Neil of old, Edgar Laprade and Phil Watson were outstanding.

The Rangers seemed to lack cohesion in their attack although they had speed to burn. Their defence was strong, especially when short-handed. The Canadiens, on the other hand, didn't lose any of their powerful, forceful type of

Face Y.M.H.A. in Opener At Gym Tuesday Night Intermediates See Action

Both Squads Continue Practices Interfaculty League Organized

The McGill senior and intermediate cage entries in the M.B.L. will make their 1945-46 debut Tuesday night when the seniors tackle the powerful Y.M.H.A. quintet in the nightcap of the weekly doubleheader, while the intermediate squad clashes with their brothers from Dawson in the opener of the intermediate twin-bill.

Coaches Davies and Rutherford had their players out on the floor last night and various passing plays were attempted until the boys satisfied the brain trust with sufficient polish. During this period Davies had his eyes wide open as he still has to apply the pruning knife to his squad.

At the present stage the veteran mentor has chosen nine players to form the nucleus of the senior squad with the reservation that changes and additions might be necessary. Leading this group are George Davidson, Manny Shacter, Sam Roth and Mart Goodwin of last year's five. In addition Dave Greenberg, leading scorer of the M.B.L. last year, will join the ranks of the Redmen and team up with ex-service players Lou Zalkind, Ken Hoyle and Ronnie Bower. To round out an already impressive team Coach Davies has picked Pete Finlay who has starred for the last four years with West Hill High's Senior "A" Quintet.

INTERMEDIATE SQUAD

The intermediate squad has not been chosen as yet but the names of those to represent McGill next Tuesday night will be announced shortly.

Aside the hoop opener on Tuesday McGill basketball lovers who just can't make the representative quintets, will have a chance to strut their stuff in the interfaculty loop. The entries have been divided into five sections with the winners play-

McGill Meets Dawson In Soccer Series Play

The McGill soccer team will play Dawson College this Saturday, with the kick-off at 2.00 sharp on the upper campus.

This should turn out to be a hard fought game as both clubs have won one game in two previous tilts; Dawson winning the first game 3-0 and the McGill squad coming out on top of a 2-1 decision in the second battle.

As there are rumours that the McGill squad may take on Varsity next week, the Redmen are especially anxious to carry away the laurels in Saturday's match.

The following will represent McGill: Samuel, Lindo, Smith, Wolvin, Wood (capt.), Dale, Fong, Barnard, Glegg, Ammon, Wilkinson, Campbell, Godfrey.

NOTICES

There is plenty of work still to be done on the trails by the Sunday morning early risers who either take the 8.15 Park Avenue or 9.15 from Central trains.

WEEK-END

Get out your pack, heavy boots and old "Jeans"; prepare for just the kind of carefree week-end you have been waiting for, and keep your fingers crossed that someone has bribed the weatherman on our behalf.

Skiing is coming up soon too and for all those beginners and on the line skiers there is to be a demonstration in the Montreal High Auditorium. This is called the Ski Clinic sponsored by the Local Zone Committee; to be held on Tuesday, November 20. There will be a 20-minute talk by Frank Schofield with a demonstration by Johnny Frapp; five-minute talks by Doug MacIntyre and Bob Wallace on First Aid and Competitions, respectively, and a one-hour movie, "Technique," by the Ontario Ski Zone.

SKI PATROL

The Ski Patrol will also be discussed. For all those who are beginners there will be very basic technique as well as competitive skiing for the more advanced skiers.

The M.O.C. have been given a special invitation so let's see a large turnout of all prospective skiers. SKI HEIL!!!!
